MR. ERASTUS WINANS has a new inven tion which he calls the "Cyclone." It is a small box full of machinery which ground into fine powder, in the presence of several gentlemen, oyster shells, quartz, mica, naits, &c. The conscience of a Democratic politician and the cheek of a Mugwamp were then put into the box and the machinery, box and all, were broken to pieces

THE Treasury Department is making a vigorous effort to show that there will be no dangerous accumulation of money in the tressury during the coming fiscal year. But it is impossible to get away from the well established fact, that the income will be at jeast one hundred millions larger than the expenditures and the amount required for the sinking fund. That means a dangerous financial condition.

PREPARATIONS are active for the filling of that picturesque lake near the Washington monument, so poetically christened "Babcock." Very well, if the presence of the water would endanger the grand foundation. But there are other and equal dangers quite as near. Two or three aqueous bodies lie, threatening, immediately west of the pile. If "Babcock" is harmful, so, of course, are these. What then?

WHILE there is some apprehension ex-Schnaebeles and his incarceration in Germany, the danger to the peace of Europe does not lie in that direction. Germany does not want war, Bismarck is not seeking for an excuse, and while the French people undoubtedly feel a strong desire for reverge, the government will prefer to wait. War means for France a dictatorship with Boulanger as dictator, and the French rulers know it. But Russia is ready, the warm days are coming, and the news from where Asia borders on Europe may be very interesting in a few days.

THE address of Senor Romero, the Mexican minister, at the celebration of the sixtyfifth anniversary of the birthday of Gen. Grant, is a glowing tribute to those splendid Grant, and of which no one knew mor than Senor Romero, because a close intimacy had existed for years between thes two gentlemen, terminated only by the death of one of them. The eulogy of Sens Romero came from the heart of the friend pulsating with the warm blood that flows in the veins of those who come from the sun-kissed mountains of Mexico, and is worthy of the nation that gives it to the great American soldier and statesman.

THE Alexandria Gazette says that no body, except a "born simpleton," would have uttered such foolish words as were published in the NATIONAL REPUBLICAN, coming from a young man belonging to one of the first families of Alexandria, who said about the Arrow Steamship Company : "Ob, the best people don't want such things: it will bring several hundred dirty mechanics to the city, and we don't like that." We quite agree with the Alexan-dria Gazette in its estimate of any young man who was so big an ass as to make such a statement. Our object is accomplished when the local press of Alexandria unite with us in exposing to ridicule such 'old fogy" bourbon sentiments.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND called for, and has examined, the papers in the contest between the Northern Pacific Railroad Company and Guilford Miller as to the title of a certain tract of land within the indemnity limits on which Miller had homesteaded. The President has written a letter to the Secretary of the Interior, suggesting that the railway company be required to select other land than that in dispute, if entitled to any, because it had not complied with all the requirements of the law, and was not therefore in condition to antagonize the claim of Miller. He also directs the Secretary to give the settler the benefit of all doubts. The decision in this case does not settle any general principle to be applied to other cases.

THE coal product of the Monongabels valley amounts to nearly 100,000,000 bushels or 3,500,000 tons yearly. Of this vast amount about two-thirds of it is distribnted to lower points in the Mississipp valley, and the balance along the upper and lower Ohio valley. Towing steamers from Pitteburg to Louisville have a tonnage capacity of from 4,000 to 10,000 tons, and steamers towing from Louisville to the various southern ports have a towing capacity of from 15,000 to double that amount. The tow of the Joe. B. Williams, which left Louisville for New Orleans on March 19, consisted of thirty coal boats and six barges exclusive of fuel, three craft additional amounting to 798,434 bushels, or 39,340 tons, and including the fuel, 826,011 bushels er 31,388 tons, the largest tonnage eve moved on the Ohio or Mississippi rivers by any single steamer, exceeding the tonnage of the famous steamship Great Eastern. This immense tow is 789 feet in length, and including steamer, 1,015 feet, with a width of 262 feet. To transport one tow of the big Joe Williams by rall would require sixty trains of twenty-five cars each, 20 tons to of Frank Work, the banker and horse owner.

the car, and would extend over a continuou line of track over ten miles. These facts are commended to the considerate attention of the President when he comes to examinanother river and harbor bill.

The Co-operation of Capital and Labor. Mr. N. O. Nelson, of St. Louis, has an article in the North American Review for April on "Profit Sharing," which is one system of the co-operation of capital and labor, that embodies many valuable facts. Mr. Nelson gives the result of his experience as the head of a manufacturing estabishment in St. Louis employing about 250

About two years ago Mr. Nelson adonted the profit-sharing plan. After allowing 7 per cent, interest on actual capital invested, the remainder (of profits) is equally di-vided upon the total amount of wages paid and capital employed. Each employe who has been in service six mouths or over gets his proportion according to the amount of wages paid bim for the year. The men are invited to leave their shares with the com-pany, subject to the same interest and dividend as the company's capital may earn.
Mr. Nelson says that leaving out salaried men they pay from $1.75 to $3 per day wages. If profits amounting to 10 per cent, on the capital and wages fund are carned the men will get from $53,50 to $92 each for a year's work, besides their regular wages.

This system was first adopted in 1842 by Mr. Leclaire, a Parislan house painter and decorator, who commenced that year divid-ing with his men the profits of his business n excess of the interest on the capital invested. The plan succeeded, and up to 1885 there had been paid $850,000 to the workmen in cash, Since the death of Leclaire in 1872 the cash dividends of the cusiness have ranged from "12 to 23 per cent., besides providing a fund for accident or death. In 1844 the Paris and Orleans Railway Company adopted profit sharing, and the result was that fewer hands have been required to do the work; there have been less repairs to make, and both shareholders and employes have fared better. In the United States profit sharing has also proved satisfactory and beneficial when tried. In 1879 the Hazzards, woolen manufscturers of Peacedale, R. I., adopted it and have since paid from 3 to 5 per cent. dividends on wages. Since 1882 the Pilisburys, of Minneapolis, flour manufacturers, have divided more than $27,000 a year on the average among their men.

A number of other establishments are now adopting this system, and so far all that have tried it are so well satisfied with the results that it may be expected to come into general use, particularly when the business is the manufacture of goods.

The plans of division are of course diverse and varied, but time and experience will show the correct methods, and if, as it is believed, this system of co-operation secures good results for both labor and capital it will be the first step to the organized co-operation of labor without capital, as suggested by Senator Stanford, and the best possible solution of all labor troubles.

No candidate from the first district for the fifty-first Congress (1888) can obtain the Demoratic nomination should be make a free trade speech in Mobile. There will be a large protection Democratic vote in Herbert's and in Davidson's districts. Forney's district cannot be carried by a free trader. Wheeler cannot make free trade speeches in Huntsville, De-catur, and Shellield without developing an op-position which the party cannot afford to en-courage.—Himingham [Alia] Apr. Dim.

The NATIONAL REPUBLICAN has been steadily insisting that the sentiment in favor of protection is growing in the south. But what folly it is to talk about "protection Democratic vote," when the men of that party who claim to be in favor of protection vote for a free trade speaker, who organizes the House committees so that free traders control them, and who despotically usurps power to prevent the removal of the tobacco tax.

The white men of the south who are in favor of protection should have "the courage of their convictions" and unite with the Republican party, which is pledged to protection and which stands by its piedge. If men try to frighten them by talking about "the color line" and "the race question," let them point to Matthews and Trotter. negroes appointed to one of the best paying offices in Washington city by a Demorratio President. In no event can the people of the south who favor protection expect to aid in securing it through the Democratic party, that is pledged to "ultimate free trade" through "temporary incidental

THE Boston importers and exporters say their business in that city would be completely broken up except for the system of retates allowed by the railways. On this subject the Wall Street Daily News says:

Boston is the second port in the Union in respect to magnitude of exports and imports, and its business has been built up on the basis of equality with New York, which is accomplished through the regulation of rates, regard-less of the short and long haut principle. New York has the natural advantages in respect to railroad distances and grades and ocean rates A Boston steamship agent said New York's advantage in ocean rates had been in the last season from a penny to a penny and a halt, and that in spite of the equal ratiroad rates one-half his company's steamers had been diverted to New York. The large pork pack-ing establishments in Somerville, adjoining Beston, have been built up on the rebate system. Their business aggregates $15,000,000 per annum, and their representative alleged that it could not be continued if the interstate law was to be enforced.

THE MILLER LAND CASE, important Suggestions From the Fresident in Relation to the Claim. President Cleveland yesterday sent to the Secretary of the Interior a letter in relation to the controversy between Guilford Miller and the Northern Pacific Railroad Company as to the ownership of certain public land as to the ownership of certain public land in Washington territory, and which has been passed upon by several officers of the government who do not agree in their conclusions. The President, after reviewing the claims made by both parties and the action of the Interior Department in withdrawing the land in 1872 from sale and presemption, says that the legal points in the controversy turned upon the validity and effect of the withdrawal and reservation of this land and the continuance thereof.

emption, says that the legal points in the controversy turned upon the validity and effect of the withdrawal and reservation of this land and the continuance thereof. The Attorney General was of the opinion that the withdrawal and reservation was effectual, and operated to prevent Miller from acquiring any interest in or right to the land, and the Freedent says:

With this interpretation of the later or Department, it will be seen that their effect has been the withdrawal and reservation sines 1572 of thousands if not millions of agrees of these lands from the operation of the later has been the withdrawal and reservation sines 1572 of thousands if not millions of agrees of these lands from the operation of the leand laws of the United States, thus placing them beyond the reach of our citizens desiring, under such laws, to settle and make homes upon the same, and that this has been done for the benefit of a railroad company having no favel, certain, or definite interests in such lands. In this manner the beneficent policy and intention of the government in relation to the public domain have for all these years, to that exient, been thwarted. There seems to that exient, been thwarted. There seems to the no evidence presented showing how much, if only, of this vast tract is necessary for the foundament of the grant to the railroad company, nor does there appear to be any limitation of the benefit and the known, and the corporation obliged to make its selection. After a lapse of effects years this large body of the public domain is still held in reserve to the exclusion of settlers for the convenience of a corporation beneficiary of the government, and awaiting its selection, though it is entirely certain that much of this reserved land on longer continue. So far as it is a consequent of improvident laws, these be repealed or amended. In the case under consideration I assume that there is an abundance of land within the area which has been reserved for indemnity in which no citizen or settler has a legal or equita

I suggest that you exercise the power and authority you have in the premises upon equitable considerations, with every presumption and intendment in favor of the skiller, and in case you find this corporation is entitled to relect any more of these lands than it has already acquired that you direct it to select, in lieu of the land upon which Mr. Miller has settled, other land within the limits of this indemnity reservation upon which has been the land upon the land which notines to the land upon the land upon the land upon the hashes the land upon the hashes the land upon which hashes the land upon the land

I call your attention to sections 2450 and 2451 of the Revised Statutes of the United States as pointing out a mode of procedure, which may perhaps be reserted to if necessary, for the purpose of reaching a just and equitable disposition of the case.

The suggestion herein contained can, I believe, be adopted without disregarding or calling in question the opinion of the Attorney General upon the purely legal propositions which were submitted to him.

EMMA ABROTT AT THE NATIONAL.

The sale of reserved seats for the engagement of the Emma Abbott Grand English Opera Company, at the National Theater all of next week, begins this morning at the box office, and, notwithstanding the numerous musical attractions with which Washington is at present favored, there will undoubtedly prevall the same enthusiasm at the opening of the box sheet which characterized the advanced sale for the Abbott engagement last year. Emma Abbott is a great favorite in this city, and presents to the public a class of the company of the favorites who were mosts. Her voice is said to be stronger and richer than ever before. Her company embraces many of the favorites who were with her in her last visit, but the chorus and orchestra have been largely augumented, and the ensemble is stronger and better than ever. The opening opera will be the famous tragic opera "Lucretin Borgia," which will be heard for the first time in English in Washington, to be followed during the week by "Mikmon." "Bohemian Girl," "Il Trovatore." "Carnival of Venice." "Crispino and the Fairy." and "Chimes of Normandy, "Mignon," with the Intight scene from "Erminie.

PACIFIC RAILROAD COMMISSION Investigation Commenced With the

Examination of C. P. Huntington, NEW YORK, Apr. 27,-The Pacific railroad congressional investigating committee met to-day at its office in Wall street. Ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison, of Pennsylvania swore C. P. Huntington, who was the first witness. The examination was conducted by E. Ellery Anderson. The witness stated that he had been connected with the road since its organization in 1901. His particu-lar business was to attend to financial matters. The main office was in San Francisco, where the directors' meetings took plans. Himself and another vice president lived in New York, but the company never had kept a set of books bern. They common all building the road with assal contractors, and as they did not get alone very wait with the construction the confined was let to Mr. Crocker. This was within about a year of the passage of the sact of 1842. The money for construction was provided by contract the time the road was seminanced to the time of its completion prices of mater all wests up from 200 to 200 per cent them was $150 per ton, locometives cont $5.000, and before they got through as want, as $20,000 was paid. They paid in gold for all supplies, and that was how they came to a standalli for funds to continue its construction. Mr. Garrison and Mr. Mills were asked to join in the enterprise, but they could not see their way clear to a additive small many they was a standalli for funds to continue its construction. Mr. Crocker were owners of most of the stock of the contract and finance company, which was organized to continus the building of the road.

The witness then described the difficulties under which they labored before the different branches which now constitute the said line were just through. In the sevential they purchased steamboats to run is connection with the road from San Francisco and other points on the coast. They were part of the purchase of the California Pacific, which they bought. Then the assumers were sold to the Central Pacific to be usual as ferryboats. He did not know how the transfer came about, the price paid, or what effect it had on the market price of the stock of the road he was interested in. The Central Pacific. The California and Oregon was consolidated with the Central Pacific. The California and Oregon was consolidated with the Central Pacific. The California and Oregon was consolidated with the Central Pacific. The California and Oregon was consolidated with the Central Pacific. The California and Oregon was consolidated with the construction of the California and Oregon to Reading. Mr. Huntington thought that he had told all about the construction of 1802, and direc expenses.

The witness said that he could only offer The witness said that he could only offer the same explanation he had already given—that the money was used in "explaining" things at Washington. The company had to "educate" the people in Washington, they had to "explain." The witness was then asked to give an illustration, and he said: "You want to get Richard Roe, who represents a certain district, to do something. Well, you cannot speak to him. You send into his district and get John Doe to tell Richard Roe that what you want is just the very thing for that district."

The witness claimed that money had never been given to congressmen to influence them in favor of the company, but he admitted that the company's counsel had used more money if an usual while Congress was sitting. Some of the money might have been "explained" in champagne dinners or cigars. What the witness meant might have been explained in champagne dinners or cigars. What the witness meant by 'educating' was that the company's object or scheme would be more for the benefit of the public than of the company. They had to 'explain' to the people of Washington that it was better to build their line on solid rock in the bay of San Francisco than it was to build on splies. Moral influence had to be brought to bear on the Washington people. Witness was then questioned as to the lease of the Central Pacific to the Southern Pacific, and he admitted that he was interested in both companies and had recommended the consolidation. Adjourned.
